

American Corner Sylhet Organizes Election Film Showing

November 1, 2008 -- A large number of viewers eagerly watched the U.S. Presidential candidates' biographies at American Corner Sylhet just a couple of days before the 2008 U.S. presidential election. The total number of attendees numbered 70, including students, academics and the general public. The biographies of both candidates were shown during the show. This year the American Corners in Bangladesh took initiative to publicize the U.S. election by showing election-related films and displaying informational materials.

Viewers are watching the biography of Barak Obama at the American Corner Sylhet